

HISTORY AND HONOUR ROLL – Australian Girls’ Interstate Teams Matches (for the Burtta Cheney Cup)

History

In 1977 the Junior Interstate Handicap Matches were initiated for competition between State Junior Teams of two players under 21 years of age. In 1986 the trophy was named the Burtta Cheney Cup and the format changed to a team of four players until 1993 when each team consisted of six players under the age of 18. Between 2002 and 2005 the competition was played as 18-hole medal matches, but reverted back to match play in 2006.

From 2007 onwards, all matches were played as scratch match play – previous to that, players five and six contested handicap match play.

Miss Burtta Cheney

Between 1949 and 1963, Miss Cheney was the captain of teams that competed for the Tasman Cup and Commonwealth Tournament. Burtta Cheney was also a player in those same events on numerous occasions.

In a long career as a player, Miss Cheney won the 1957 Australian Amateur Championship at Royal Adelaide Golf Club. Miss Cheney was also a member of the ALGU Council for various periods between 1947 and 1983, and the ALGU Vice-President between 1977 and 1979.

The ALGU is indebted to Miss Cheney who through a generous donation in 1987, endowed the trophies for winners of the interstate matches. In the same year, the ALGU Council sought her permission for the trophy to be named the Burtta Cheney Cup.
