1. CHECK-LIST OF HANDICAPPING DUTIES, AUTHORITIES, AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE HOME CLUB

- (i) An essential element of the GA Handicap System is that each affiliated club will ensure it is properly administered in accordance with the interpretations of Golf Australia. It is for each club to establish and maintain its own procedures for ensuring it properly administers the GA Handicap System.
- (ii) The duties, responsibilities, and authorities of each club are as follows (note: as a club does not always have complete control of the course or courses on which its members play, it should conform with the following to the extent that its authority permits):
  - (A) Responsible for ensuring compliance by the golf club with all aspects of the GA Handicap System, including the determination of each member's GA Handicap.
  - (B) Responsible for ensuring the set-up of its course (or courses) complies with the requirement to maintain the rated length (see Appendix A).
  - (C) Responsible for verifying that all required Eligible Scores made by their members are reported for handicap purposes and that only Eligible Scores are included in the handicap records of their members.
  - (D) Has the authority to determine if course conditions are so poor that handicapping of competitions at that facility should be suspended (unless the Member Association supplies different guidance). If handicapping is suspended for an extended period, the golf club must obtain approval from its Member Association.
  - (E) Responsible for ensuring the Scratch Rating and Slope Rating of each Course at the facility is posted in a prominent place (it is advisable for these ratings to be printed on the score card).
  - (F) The club should compare the Scratch Rating and Slope Rating of each course it regularly uses with those of other courses. Separate ratings must be made from each set of tee markers as practical for each gender. A club must accept and use the ratings issued by its Member Association. If a club disagrees with its ratings, it may request its Member Association to review the ratings in accordance with the relevant GA policy.
  - (G) The club should examine results of competitions. If net scores of any players appear exceptional, the club should take appropriate action as specified by this System.
  - (H) Ensure accurate maintenance of its members' handicap records. The club is responsible for reviewing the data entered into GOLF Link and received from GOLF Link and applying all other procedures of the GA Handicap System.
  - (I) Responsible for ensuring any existing handicap record of a new member of the club is appropriately transferred and incorporated into the new GOLF Link number. (Note: The handicap record of a member who resigns will be preserved automatically by GOLF Link for an indefinite period.) Phone the GOLF Link Customer Service Centre for assistance with 'Home Club Transfer' process – 1300 650 750.
  - (J) Responsible for reviewing the accuracy of handicap records of members of the club. Responsible for ensuring compliance with the published GA guidelines regarding when (and when not) to record the status of a round as "No Score – Not Approved" (see Appendix B). If errors exist, the club must move to have such errors corrected as soon as possible. A club may wish to consult its Member Association or GOLF Link for assistance.
  - (K) The club may check periodically and consult with other clubs, its Member Association, or GA, on matters including, but not limited to:
    - The allocation of handicap-stroke holes on the course.
    - The determination of handicap competition grades at the club (given that it is considered preferable by the club to split players into separate handicap grades for handicap competition purposes). To enable comparisons and consistency from club to club and from one set of tees to another set of tees, it is recommended that handicap competition grades be determined on the basis of GA Handicaps.
    - The determination of course set-up and par.
    - The determination if the condition of the courses being utilised by the club is so poor that handicapping should be suspended.
    - The maintenance of playing difficulty of the course.
    - Operation of any Local Rule on preferred lies or tee up.

In working with other clubs, the club has the responsibility to provide handicap information in a timely manner.

- (L) Responsible for ensuring new members of the club clarify in writing whether or not they have previously held an official Australian handicap or recognised overseas equivalent, what such handicap was, the lowest handicap the player has held, and timelines for each.
  - (M) Responsible for ensuring the proper application by the club of Section 15 of the GA Handicap System (“Manual Override by Club of Normal Handicap Calculation Process”).
  - (N) Responsible for ensuring the proper application by the club of Section 16 (“Manual Bonus Reduction for Exceptional Net Score”). The club should only effect a Manual Bonus Reduction if it considers that the normal calculation process has not produced an appropriate reduction.
  - (O) Responsible for ensuring that the committee in charge of each competition conducted by the club has determined whether or not to adopt the GA recommendation that any player whose GA Handicap has reverted to provisional status (as per Section 14(iii)) will not be eligible to win a prize in a competition or to win a competition.
  - (P) Where the GA Handicap System provides to a club flexibility for it to determine its own policy on a specific point (see Appendix C), the club should ensure it establishes a position on that point. To assist in determining such positions, a club may consult with other clubs, its Member Association, or GA. Note: Where a club has separate internal authorities for males and females, the bodies within the club responsible for each should engage in dialogue before establishing any policies relating to handicapping or competition management.
- (iii) Scores should be returned by players as soon as is practicable. If a club feels it is experiencing an unacceptable level of delay in score card return, it would be proper for it to set a reasonable time limit within which scores may be returned (whilst taking into account any individual cases of extenuating circumstances).
  - (iv) The club committee may determine which of its membership categories are eligible to hold GA Handicaps. Such handicaps shall only be available to golfers in respect of whom an annual affiliation fee is payable to the GA Member Association.

APPENDIX A

Requirement to Maintain the Overall Distance of a Rated Course

- (A) Whilst a course should generally be played at its rated length, a club does have a large degree of flexibility around the movement of tee markers from day to day provided overall course distance remains substantially the same. Where unusual weather or course conditions are in evidence, a club may wish to set the daily tee markers such that overall course distance is altered provided the overall change is no more than 100 metres.

Note: Notwithstanding any of the above, the definitive limits within which a club is required to operate in order for scores to be eligible to be handicapped are set out within the following clauses (B) and (C).

- (B) Scores must not be handicapped when the position of the daily tee markers on the course played are more than 100 metres overall from the permanent rating markers for that course for an 18-hole round.

Note i: If on one hole the tee markers are 15 metres forward and on another hole they are 10 metres back, the overall difference for these two holes is considered to be 5 metres.

Note ii: For a round of less than 18 holes, a pro rata length must be calculated; eg for a 9-hole round, the distance is 50 metres.

- (C) Unless determined otherwise by the Member Association, handicap conditions do not prevail when the tee markers, under normal circumstances, are placed more than 20 metres in front or 20 metres behind the relevant set of permanent rating markers on more than three holes for rounds of 14-18 holes, or on more than two holes for rounds of 8-13 holes. (An exception applies for courses with cyclical permanent rating marker placements which have been approved by a Member Association.)

Note: Where average tee marker placement over time on a course results in an effective average total course distance that is considered by the Member Association to be materially different to the rated course, the Member Association should amend the official Scratch Rating accordingly.

APPENDIX B – Common Handicapping Scenarios – Procedures for Pro Shops & Handicapping Administrators (includes application of the correct GOLF Link score status)

APPENDIX C

Where the GA Handicap System provides to a club flexibility for it to determine its own policy on a specific point, the club should ensure it establishes a position on that point. To assist in determining such positions, a club may consult with other clubs, its Member Association, or GA [GA guidance is noted within each item in bold red text]. Note: Where a club has separate internal authorities for males and females, the bodies within the club responsible for each should engage in dialogue before establishing any policies relating to handicapping or competition management.

The handicapping regulations around which a club will need to determine its own local policies are as follows:

A. CONFORMING SOCIAL SCORES

Questions for each club to resolve around Conforming Social Scores:

- Will we allow the members at our club to return Conforming Social Scores? [GA encourages the handicapping of CSS, provided it does not place an undue administrative burden on the golf club.]
- If yes, how will we get our members to nominate the round as a CSS prior to them teeing off? (Some clubs will have the player write their name on a sheet of paper, others will have the player enter their name into a computer, etc.)

Other GA answers to FAQs are:

- Clubs are permitted to cap the number of CSS rounds a member may play per year.
- There is no GA regulation which would prevent a club from introducing an administrative fee for CSS rounds.

The regulations around Conforming Social scores are as follows:

All Conforming Social Scores played at courses with a Scratch Rating determined in accordance with a system which is officially recognised by Golf Australia will be used for handicapping purposes

A Conforming Social Score will be deemed to have been made when the following has occurred:

- The player's Home Club has determined to accept Conforming Social Scores for handicapping.
- The round has been played in accordance with the current Rules of Golf as approved by R&A Rules Limited.
- A score card attested by a Marker as defined within the GA Handicap System has been submitted to the Handicapping Authority or its representative. The Marker must have accompanied the player for all of the holes for which they are attesting scores.
- The score format must be singles Stableford.
- The player has nominated prior to playing a stroke on their first hole to be played that the score is to count for handicapping purposes and the number of holes they will play. If the round is played at the player's Home Club, or is being controlled by the player's Home Club, such nomination must be in accordance with the requirements of the Handicapping Authority of the player's Home Club.
- If the round is not played at the player's Home Club and is not being controlled by the player's Home Club, such nomination must be in accordance with a procedure that is acceptable to the player's Home Club.

Note i: There is nothing in the GA Handicap System, or in any other GA regulatory code, which prevents a Handicapping Authority from deeming specific individuals, or specific groups of individuals, or individuals who hold specific categories of membership, ineligible to return Conforming Social Scores.

Note ii: There is nothing in the GA Handicap System, or in any other GA regulatory code, which prevents a Handicapping Authority from limiting the number of Conforming Social Scores a member (or specific members) may return within a given period of time, or from making rounds played away from the Home Club ineligible for consideration as Conforming Social Scores.

- Note iii: There is nothing in the GA Handicap System, or in any other GA regulatory code, to prevent a club from requiring the payment of a fee as an additional eligibility criteria for a Conforming Social Score.
- Note iv: Conforming Social Scores will be processed for handicapping and will be treated by the GA Handicap System in the same manner as scores returned in Competitions (this includes instances where a player has pre-nominated that their score is to count for handicapping purposes and where the player does not return a score card in accordance with the requirements of the Rules of Golf, or plays less than the pre-nominated number of holes).
- Note v: A Stipulated Round of less than 18 holes is eligible to serve as a Conforming Social Score at the discretion of the Handicapping Authority of the player's Home Club.

B. FOUR-BALL SCORES

- (A) WHEN TO USE SCORE OBTAINED IN FOUR-BALL COMPETITION FOR HANDICAPPING PURPOSES
- Four-ball scores (including from mixed events) SHOULD be used for handicapping an individual player but only if the following requirements are met:
- The pair has a score of at least 6 better than the Scratch Rating.
  - The individual player's score appears at least 9 times on the four-ball score card.
  - The adjusted score (after the method described in (B) below has been followed to create an individual score card) is equal to or better than the individual player's official Daily Handicap for that round.
- (B) PROCEDURE FOR CREATING INDIVIDUAL SCORE CARD FROM FOUR-BALL SCORE CARD FOR HANDICAPPING PURPOSES:
- Where an individual player's score is to be handicapped (irrespective of whether the competition is played as Par, Stroke, or Stableford), it must be processed as a Stableford score in accordance with the procedures contained within this regulation.
  - When a player's score is not recorded on the four-ball card, they are given 1½ Stableford points. (Exception: When a player's score is not recorded on the four-ball card, and their partner's score is 1 Stableford point, the player is given 1 Stableford point.)
  - When a player's score counts on the four-ball card for a hole, they are given the appropriate number of Stableford points for that hole. (When both players have 0 Stableford points on a hole, they are both considered to have their score listed on the score card, including for the purposes of 'being on the card 9 times or more'. For the purposes of creating an adjusted individual score card, each player will have 0 points listed on the individual card for this hole.)
  - If two identical net scores are recorded by partners on a hole, both scores are eligible to be used on an adjusted individual score card. However, if the first player to hole out can be readily identified, the second player is deemed to have not recorded a score for that hole.

Note: Clubs are to strongly discourage players from recording the scores of both partners on a hole or holes unless a concurrent singles event is being played. Players who regularly return four-ball score cards featuring identical net scores for both players in the same hole will not be eligible to have these rounds handicapped under Section 10(v) of this System – clubs should consider using Section 15 of this System to accommodate such players.
  - When all the gaps in the card have been filled in, the points are totalled, and where a half appears in the total, the points total is rounded to the next lower whole number.
- (C) If an extended 18-hole individual score obtained via this method is processed through GOLF Link, the score type option to be chosen in GOLF Link by the administrator MUST be 'Four-ball'.
- (D) The course rating GOLF Link will use for this purpose is the Scratch Rating, not a DSR. In all other respects regarding the inclusion of the score in the player's handicap record, the score will be treated as a regular 18-hole singles competition score.
- (E) The Handicapping Authority should have in place a policy stipulating whether or not such scores will be processed for handicapping. Exceptions to the policy may be made to cater for events that have a character which is not typical to the club (such exceptions should be announced prior to the relevant day's play).

C. 9-HOLE SCORES (AND ANY OTHER SCORES RETURNED FROM PLAY OF ANYWHERE BETWEEN 8 AND 17 HOLES)

Scores returned from 8-17 holes of play may be used for handicapping purposes at the discretion of the Handicapping Authority.

[GA encourages the handicapping of scores played over 8-17 holes, provided this does not place an undue administrative burden on the golf club, and provided there is not a clear novelty nature to the competition.]

The Handicapping Authority should have in place a policy stipulating whether or not such scores will be processed for handicapping. Exceptions to the policy may be made to cater for events that have a character which is not typical to the club (such exceptions should be announced prior to the relevant day's play).

See Decision 8 and Decision 11 in Appendix B for GOLF Link score entry instructions.

The following conditions will apply to 8-17 hole scores.

- (A) Where 16-17 holes inclusive have been played, the player will be deemed to have had net par for the remaining holes (unless it is considered the player has discontinued play with a view to achieving a specific score for handicap purposes). The score will be processed as an 18-hole score.
- (B) Scores returned over 8-15 holes will not be doubled or extended. They will be entered into GOLF Link as 9-hole scores.
- (C) Where only 8 holes have been played, the player will be deemed to have had net par on the 9th hole. The score will be entered into GOLF Link as a 9-hole score.
- (D) Any score of less than 8 holes will be disregarded.
- (E) Where 10-15 holes inclusive have been played, the first 9 holes played will be used and the remaining holes will be disregarded.
  - Note i: Should the player not have started from the 1st or 10th holes (as per the order on the score card), it is holes 1-9 or 10-18 that will be used with the remainder being disregarded.
  - Note ii: If the player has not played the complete 1st nine holes on the score card OR the complete 2nd nine holes on the score card, but has played as many as 8 holes of either of the two nines, it is those 8 holes that will be used, with all others being disregarded. In such a case, the player will be deemed to have had net par on the unplayed hole on the nine to be used.
  - Note iii: The scores shall not be used for handicapping if the player has not played as many as 8 holes of either the 1st nine holes OR the 2nd nine holes on the score card.
    - Exception: If a club is regularly conducting events on an 8-16 hole configuration that does not include as many as 8 holes of either the 1st nine holes OR the 2nd nine holes on the score card, and where the club wishes to be able to use such scores for handicapping, it should contact its Member Association. The Member Association will provide a Scratch Rating that will enable the use of such scores.
- (F) The initial 9-hole score a player returns is to be entered into GOLF Link; it will not immediately be used in the calculation of the player's GA Handicap. It will be automatically held by GOLF Link in the player's handicap record until another 9-hole score is entered. The two 9-hole scores will be combined automatically by GOLF Link to create a single 18-hole score.
  - Note: The rating for each 9 holes is retained in the GOLF Link database, so it does not matter whether the two 9-hole scores to be combined come from the same course or different courses – GOLF Link will add the two 9-hole scores together, it will also add the two 9-hole Scratch Ratings together, and then compare the two totals (the average of the two Slope Ratings will be used). It is this 18-hole score that will be used in the calculation of the player's handicap.
- (G) A 9-hole score will be retained for combination with another 9-hole score until it is older than the 20th oldest 18-hole Actual Score. 9-hole scores will be combined in the order they are received by GOLF Link, and not necessarily by date order.
- (H) An 18-hole score created by the combination of two 9-hole scores will display the date and course name of both 9-hole scores. It will also display the average of the two 9-hole Slope

Ratings, and the rounded sum of the two 9-hole Scratch Ratings (these Slope Rating and Scratch Rating values will be used in the calculation of the Differential).

D. SCORES RETURNED IN AGGREGATE TEAMS EVENTS

Scores returned in Aggregate Teams Events (eg Two-ball Aggregate and Two-Ball Multiplier competitions) SHOULD be used for handicapping.

Note A: To be used for handicapping, these events must require each player to play their own ball on each hole until it is no longer reasonable for them to record at least 1 Stableford point. It is each player's individual score that is used for handicapping.

Note B: The Handicapping Authority should have in place a policy stipulating whether or not such scores will be processed for handicapping. Exceptions to the policy may be made to cater for events that have a character which is not typical to the club (such exceptions should be announced prior to the relevant day's play).

Note C: The Handicapping Authority should advise all players prior to the commencement of the competition that the Rules of singles stroke play will apply – with specific attention being drawn to the Advice Rule and also to the Rule regarding Order of Play.

Note D: From time to time a committee may be concerned that the Rules of singles play may not have been strictly adhered to. In such a case, the competition should only be disqualified from being processed for handicapping if the committee makes the determination that the results have been clearly impacted by widespread non-adherence to the Rules of singles play.

E. SCORES RETURNED IN PRO-AM EVENTS

Scores returned in Pro-Am events may, at the discretion of the committee, be used for handicapping provided one of the following requirements is met:

- (A) The Rules of singles stroke play are adhered to and each player's hole-by-hole scores are recorded on the submitted score card.
- (B) The Rules of four-ball stroke play are adhered to.

[GA encourages the handicapping of these scores, provided it does not place an undue administrative burden on the golf club.]

F. SCORES RETURNED IN CORPORATE/TRADE DAYS THAT HAVE BEEN CONDUCTED BY AN ENTITY THAT IS NOT AFFILIATED WITH G.A.

A score returned in a corporate/trade day or the like, not played in a Competition round but played in accordance with the Rules of Golf, may be used but only where it is equal to or better than the player's official Daily Handicap for that round.

Note: The Handicapping Authority should have in place a policy stipulating whether or not such scores will be processed for handicapping. Exceptions to the policy may be made to cater for events that are unusual in character (such exceptions should be announced prior to the relevant day's play).

[GA encourages the handicapping of these scores, provided it does not place an undue administrative burden on the golf club.]

G. SCORES RETURNED IN A COMPETITION THAT HAS BEEN DECLARED NULL AND VOID

A score returned by a player in a competition declared null and void SHOULD be used for handicapping purposes provided course or weather conditions have not notably compromised the proper playing of the game for that player.

The Handicapping Authority should have in place a policy stipulating whether or not such scores will be processed for handicapping.

H. SCORES RETURNED IN EVENTS SUCH AS BISQUE PAR AND THREE-BALL COMPETITIONS

Scores returned in novelty events such as Bisque Par and Three-Ball competitions may be used for handicapping at the discretion of the Handicapping Authority but only after conversion to a regular Stableford format, and only if the Rules of singles stroke play have been adhered to.

The Handicapping Authority should have in place a policy stipulating whether or not such scores will be processed for handicapping. Exceptions to the policy may be made to cater for events that have a character which is not typical to the club (such exceptions should be announced prior to the relevant day's play). [GA encourages the handicapping of these scores, provided it does not place an undue administrative burden on the golf club, and provided there is not a clear novelty nature to the relevant competition.]

I. PLAYER PLAYS WITHIN COMPETITION FIELD BUT DOESN'T ENTER COMPETITION

When a person plays within a competition field, but does not actually enter the competition, their score, if attested by a member of any golf club or golf association recognised by Golf Australia (or a person otherwise approved by the Handicapping Authority), SHOULD be used for handicapping purposes at the discretion of the Handicapping Authority.

The Handicapping Authority should have in place a policy stipulating whether or not such scores will be processed for handicapping. Exceptions to the policy may be made to cater for events that have a character which is not typical to the club (such exceptions should be announced prior to the relevant day's play).

If the Handicapping Authority determines to use such scores, they will be deemed to be Conforming Social Scores.

J. COMPETITION CONDITION LIMITS NUMBER OF CLUBS TO LESS THAN 14

When a competition limits the number of clubs that may be used to less than 14, only a score that is equal to or better than the player's official Daily Handicap for that round may be entered into GOLF Link. [GA encourages the handicapping of these scores, provided it does not place an undue administrative burden on the golf club.]

Note i: These scores must be entered into GOLF Link as Ad Hoc scores. They must not be used in any DSR calculation. The Scratch Rating will be used in the Differential calculation, not any DSR.

Note ii: The Handicapping Authority should have in place a policy stipulating whether or not such scores will be processed for handicapping. Exceptions to the policy may be made to cater for events that have a character which is not typical to the club (such exceptions should be announced prior to the relevant day's play).
