

HISTORY AND HONOUR ROLL – Australian Women’s Amateur Foursomes Championship

History

Although unsure of the official commencement of the Australian Women’s Amateur Foursomes Championship, records seem to suggest the event began in 1894. In 1959, a lady by the name of Lolita Marriott asked the Australian Ladies Golf Union (now Golf Australia) to accept a trophy in memory of her mother, who was an ardent supporter of Australian golf and an administrator at her home club of Yarra Yarra in Victoria.

Since that time, the winning pair in the Australian Women’s Amateur Foursome Championship has been awarded the Nance Marriott Salvors. It is played over 36 holes.
