

TRY SPEEDGOLF!

The field for the event boasts both top flight Speedgolfers, and first timers. While the event is fully booked for players, spectators, and those keen to learn more about the game are welcome!

So how is Speedgolf different to the traditional form of the game?

It is actually very much like regular golf except competitors are trying to complete the round as quickly as possible on foot. Your Speedgolf score is then calculated by adding together:

- Your Score e.g. 80 strokes
- Your Time e.g. 60 minutes

...for a total score of 140 (80 + 60).

The Speedgolf World Championships were recently held in New York, where a major record was broken. Finnish competitor, Mikko Rantanen broke par to score 71 and played his round in just 55 minutes and 28 seconds – the first player to ever break par in the Championship!
