BANGALAY DINING

The area is blessed with amazing natural features as well as thriving local producers passionate about the paddock to plate movement. Completing your Bangalay experience, the onsite restaurant Bangalay Dining is devoted to creating dishes full of integrity with just a sprinkling of whimsy, with highly awarded Head Chef Brent Strong passionate about delivering quality food from local, respected producers and incorporating the foraging element in a sustainable and ethical way.

Bangalay Dining is overseen by acclaimed Chef Thomas Johns, previous owner and executive chef of Two Hatted restaurant Pello. The venue offers both formal dining and an alfresco area, where you can enjoy a cocktail by the bar looking out over the pool and golf course whilst enjoying the ocean breeze as you sit back and relax over a delectable meal.

The menus for all Bangalay Dining areas have been thoughtfully crafted, taking inspiration from the surroundings with a heavy focus on local and native ingredients. The menus showcase the abundance of local produce right on our door step - from oysters, flat head, local beef, native herbs and florals, such as Eucalyptus and Geraldton Wax. Banskia, which surrounds the property, will also be harnessed and incorporated into the dishes.

HEAD CHEF - BRENT STRONG

Brent Strong is a chef that respects locality and sustainability, a trait that he acquired when he trained under the guidance of Dave Campbell at the acclaimed Hungry Duck and Wharf Road on the South Coast.

Brent's strong ties to the local South Coast area stem from growing up in the region so he was incredibly honoured to receive the 2016 South Coast Tourism Young Achiever Award.

Brent's strong passion for cooking didn't go unrecognised when he received the Raymund Barrington Roberts memorial scholarship, which led him to Restaurant Orana in Adelaide. This experience provided Brent with a strong insight into the world of native Australian ingredients.

When awarded the prestigious Oliver C Schaul Bicentennial Scholarship, Brent headed overseas to learn at Michelin starred Restaurant Relae in Copenhagen. Here Brent honed his skills by learning new and innovative techniques, further cementing his passion for sustainability. Relae is the world's first fully organic Michelin starred restaurant and has been awarded the San Pellegrino Sustainable Restaurant Award in 2015 and 2016.

Brent's passion combined with his desire to learn and expand his skills has seen him develop into a young, aspiring chef with an exciting future ahead of him. Brent recently ran a very successful pop-up with a degustation style menu. The menu was designed to showcase quality local and native Australian ingredients, taking inspiration from the farm, Glenbrae, where Brent spent his childhood.

- The restaurant is open to guests and the public for breakfast, lunch and dinner 7 days a week.*
- *Restaurant will be closed to the public during exclusive use wedding functions and private events.
